

This is a representation of what our user information will be like on account creation. The example is of us creating a test user with the current model of our user and storing it in the database. Using the admin view in django we are showing the information without creating a webpage.

Image 1: database table in models

Image 2: creating test user from the command line

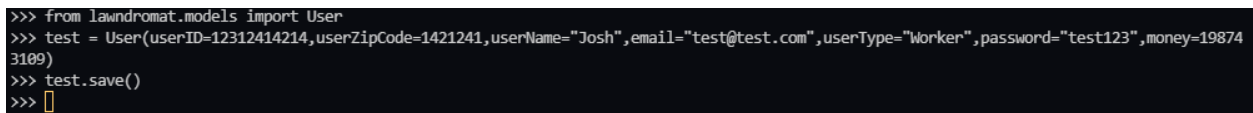

Image 3: displaying user in admin view

Start typing to filter...

AUTHENTICATION AND AUTHORIZATION

Groups + AddUsers + Add

LAWNDROMAT

Requests + AddUsers + Add

«

127.0.0.1:8000/admin/

Change user

HISTORY

User object (1)

UserID: 1231241

UserZipCode: 1421241

UserName: Josh

Email: test@test.com

UserType: Worker

Password: test123

Money: 1987431

Delete

Save and add another

Save and continue editing

SAVE